Principal's Message

Dear Seniors,

The 1983-84 school year was an exciting and challenging one for administrators, teachers and students at New Brunswick High School. It was the crossroads of a new beginning for a "School of Excellence."

Higher expectations, motivation and proper decorum were stressed. New and revised curricula were presented, and the seriousness of doing the best in whatever you do was emphasized.

The words 'academic achievement' were heard repeatedly in classes, programs, activities, with the hope of making all students realize that dreams of success can be fulfilled.

My message to Seniors is to always remember New Brunswick High School as an academic environment where learning takes place for all those who want it. Remember New Brunswick High School as the meeting place where friendships began and will be cherished forever. Remember New Brunswick High School where indeed there is "KNOWLEDGE FOR SERVICE."

Good Luck as you continue on your road to success and thank you for making 1983-84 a highlight in my professional career.

Sincerely,

Joan Marino Bornheimer

President's Message

I am very proud to say that throughout our years here at N.B.H.S. the members of the graduating class of 1984 have demonstrated enthusiasm, dedication and perseverance. We have worked diligently to achieve excellence and fulfill class goals and expectations.

Although that sad moment has come when we must go our separate ways out into the world, we shall never forget those memorable times we shared together.

Remember that first day of school during our freshman year? Or that pep rally? We demonstrated our class spirit, but developed sore throats the following day. How about the class car wash? We ended up soaked from head to toe. These were just some of the fun times we shared together during the past four years.

As a class our presence here at New Brunswick High School has served as an inspiring role model for the classes that follow our footsteps.

Our teachers have provided us with the knowledge and skills needed to compete in this highly technological society in which we live. We are now ready to choose a career. Whatever path we travel, whether it be further education or business, as your President, I am certain that we are all ready for the challenge.

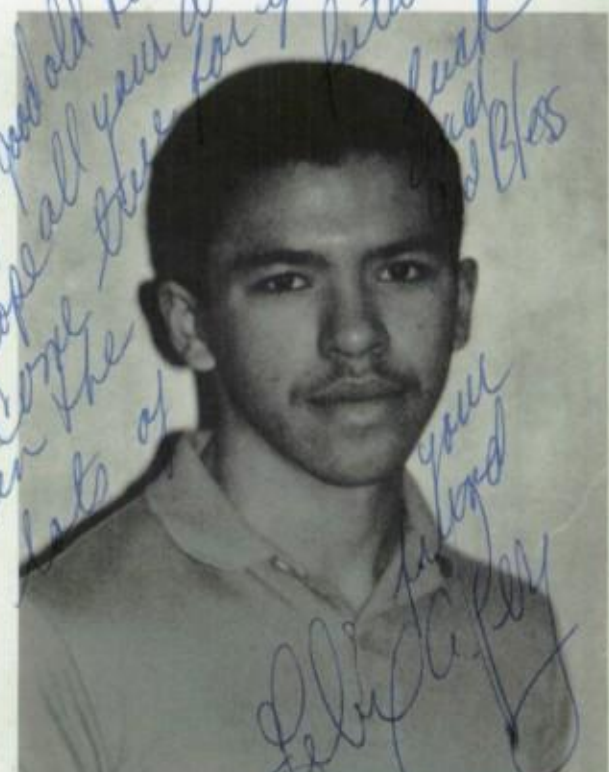

Best of Luck and God Bless.
